Dual Enrollment/Honors Program

Qualified students will be enrolled in the Honors track for their junior and/or senior years at FBCS. Students may opt out of the track at the end of any semester and rejoin the regular high school program.

Since students will be receiving dual high school and college credits, current high school grade point averages and rankings will be used to determine eligibility for the program

FBBC courses will be taught by a live teacher on our FBCS campus, and the University of Northwestern courses will be taken online and on-site at Fourth Baptist Christian School during the normal school day schedule. Students will earn college credits and a transcript of courses taken and grades earned from UNWSP and FBBC are recorded by each institution.

CLEP EXAMINATIONS

Students may CLEP out of courses during and in advance of college attendance. Visit <https://clep.collegeboard.org/> for more information and pricing.

CLEP Transfer: Parents and students are encouraged to check with college/university programs before enrolling in the Dual Enrollment/Honors program. It is up to the admitting college/university programs to determine the acceptance of credits. Your selected college/university programs will also have lists of available CLEP examinations for your consideration.

It is recommended that students who have attended FBCS for their four-year high school career and have done well in their English courses and who have completed at least GTA-3 should consider studying and taking the College Algebra and English CLEP tests.

FBCS is an approved CLEP testing site. Visit www.fourthbaptistchristianschool.org. Scroll down to SCHEDULE A CLEP TEST for available dates. Testing site administrative fee applies.

Subject: CLEP Testing at FBCS

Some students were asking about CLEP testing here at Fourth so I thought I would share the information with Junior/Senior students and their parents. If you take and pass the test for a certain subject, this can replace that class for you in college (you need a score of 50 out of 80 to receive credit).

I don't know the specifics of how this works with each college. So, do some research at the college you plan to attend for how this may work for you. This is a way in addition to PSEO that you can get some of your general classes taken care of. Be careful because there are limits set by each college for how many CLEP tests you can use and which classes they replace. Also, some of the CLEP tests may replace classes you have already done in PSEO so don't repeat these. In my recollection, we have had FBCS students take History of the US 1 & 2, Western Civ 1 &2, Analyzing and Interpreting Literature, College Composition, College Algebra, Chemistry, and Spanish Language: Levels 1 &2. Again, look into your college and what they accept for general classes you need.

I give tests on Wednesday afternoons (3:45-5:15 although we could start earlier since we are both in the building) during the school year. I switch to Tuesday and Thursday during the day in the summer (this haven't opened yet since I haven't looked at my summer schedule closely). If the times available on the website don't work for you, we can always talk and arrange something that would work for both of us.

Taking a CLEP test

- You must be registered for the CLEP test through the College Board - we cannot register you. More information on that process is found here: <https://clep.collegeboard.org/register> (use this link to purchase your CLEP ticket (most are $95), I will need the number to log you into your specific test-either on paper or digitally)
- Use this link to schedule your upcoming CLEP session.
- Administrative Fee: $35 cash or check (made out to FBCS)
- Please remember your government-issued identification; school ID cards are not acceptable

I would recommend some time studying for whichever exams you choose to take. It looks like there are some free resources to provide topics to study and some paid resources as well. Another option is to use Modern States. This website gives you a course to work through (videos and practice to do). If you make it through the whole course, then Modern States provides you with the CLEP ticket (saving you $95 and preparing you for the test, but a time commitment on your part).
